Eikon Research Welcomes Ben Hogan as New General Manager

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. – Eikon Research, a subsidiary of Shee Atiká, is excited to welcome Ben Hogan as its new General Manager of Operations, effective January 12, 2026.

Ben brings nearly three decades of experience in defense contracting, with a proven record of driving performance, fostering innovation, and enhancing customer engagement. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Auburn University and has consistently demonstrated leadership in operational excellence and strategic growth.

"We're excited to welcome Ben Hogan as Eikon Research's new General Manager of Operations," said Tim Castro, President & CEO of Shee Atiká. "Ben's leadership and experience will strengthen Eikon's role within our family of companies, creating powerful synergies across our core business lines—research and development, cybersecurity, software development, and systems integration. This alignment positions us to deliver even greater innovation and value to our government customers."
